

PART 1 WITH IMPROVEMENTS

POE PART 1:

PUBLIC AND PRIVATE WORK HAND IN HAND TO PUT AN END TO MALNUTRITION

Everywhere we look in South Africa we meet one problem or the other, everyday it is a power struggle to meet basic needs. The most common ones are loadshedding, reservoir water levels being low, inadequate infrastructure, the list could go on but one that hits close to the heart that we undermine and seldomly pay attention to is MALNUTRITION IN SCHOOLS. During the covid lockdown we all know how hard it was to get access to food, medicine and most importantly our education took a toll, our schools were shut down, which for some kids was their only source of a good meal. Weither we like to admit it, or not south Africa is failing its children, due to malnutrition many bright kids get robbed of their future and health, like the Foods & trees organization says "It is a slow violence against our children, and we cannot thrive as a country when our children are shackled to a life of hunger and malnutrition" . Private schools have the resources and enough funds to help in this regard so why not make use of this and partner up with our government schools as well disadvantaged ones. We can use this as a forefront to make a difference and change the fate of these innocent kids, an example would be to buy pens and sell them to our private institutions thus building up funds which will enable them to slowly but surely purchase ingredients to make these hot meals for the learners. Another is to buy seeds and help plant them so that these schools can eventually grow and sustain them on their own. Through these small initiatives we can do our part to help put an end to this crisis.

WEB PAGES: 1. HOMEPAGE-our organization relies on facts and statistics in order to help us come up with solutions. some of them are looking at the scope of the problem and how it's affecting students, another important factor is WHOIS AT RISK? simply meaning different age groups, race, nationality and the various aspects that go along with it. We also focus on how we can help these kids and how their response is, and ultimately the most important factor is how private schools can assist government schools. Here at every child matters we intend to use this platform in the very best way possible to try and assist as many kids as possible. We want to see our kids healthy and happy, free from pain and illness. mediocre business that ventured out and decided that malnutrition was a big issue and immediately set our hearts on this problem, the owners Mr. Ronald Darcy and his wife Ellie Darcy founded this company in the beginning , it was thereafter passed to his 3 grandkids and they now work with other people to run this npo Mr. Ronald was a very passionate individual who grew up in a poor household and knew what it felt like to not have enough food the table , he decided from that day he would work hard enough to open an NGO to make sure that no child experience what he had to . His aim was to help in which way he could even if it meant pouring his life savings. We initially used to do drives and serve food to those who needed it but our aim changed when we realized how many kids out there are struggling , all due to different situations and circumstances , we have decided as to help these students in whichever way we can , weither it be starting food programmes in these schools or starting a funding programme for the school to aid financial assistance towards the school so that they can help the learners. Another way we are helping to put an end to malnutrition regarding schools is to empower local schools to take a risk and purchase items that would interest private institutions and sell it to them so that they can help them school themselves, also teaching them good skills for the outside world 3. ## PART 2

Improvements to part 1:

- designed a new nav bar and liked all pages correctly
- Stretched the logo so that it fits in the index.html
- colored the homepage text
- Under homepage did CSS styling, text in italic, breaks between headings but that being used as a paragraph.
- Centered the homepage image

- Moved the picture from the about tab that was centered at the bottom to the top
- Text aligned heading 2 in about us page
- Changed font in about us page as well font size, removed unnecessary information
- CSS styling done to products page; pictures centered
- Responsive contacts page and CSS styling
- Reviews page – all lined edited with CSS and html styling
- Image is centered in reviews page and background color and box is added for the review comments.
- Media query in CSS sheet

PART 3

From my part two process document when I received my rubric, I noticed that I lost an enormous number of marks for not explaining properly where I have made changes and jotting them down in my process document, there was also more that could have done to make my website more visually appealing and still looking professional. I then decided to create an entirely new website as I was not happy with the one, I made. This website is better and has more HTML, CSS styling has been done as well as implementing media queries, and using JavaScript for certain aspects of the project.

Improvements to part 2 website:

- Added more page's example, home, about, reviews, contact us, donate and a registration form
- I have also added in animations in all pages to make it more appealing
- I have redesigned a nav bar and styled it accordingly
- Added in the correct padding, colors, weights in the nav bar
- Added in comments in all the above html pages where needed.
- I have added in two media queries'
- Added in a span class div
- In the about us page, I have also added in animations
- Styled the above page correctly
- Added in a button hover
- Added sections where needed
- Added some images in and adjusted the width, height and alt of the image
- My contact us pages allow the user to enter their details, and if not entered a message it will not go through but if successful it will go through, you will see that in my coding been done.
- In the programs page I made use of styling, added in more images to act as a gallery page, I have made use of Seo by using the correct attributes example h1, h2, h3, p and so on
- In my reviews page I have made use of sections and reviews of atleast 6 people. I implemented css styling and html codes, I have also added in more commits
- In my html registration page, I added animations again, created many new div tags, created a javascript page to link it to and styled it using a linked css page.
- My website is responsive and allows for functionality

- Lastly my donate html page that I have created is user friendly and uses JavaScript and div tags to allow the user to donate and a message generates at the end. Added in a currency bar and all the necessary information needed
- Added in a newsletter subscription in my homepage with a checkbox
- In my about us page I have added in my google form.
